CLOTHES WRINGER.

PRICE.....$7.

WE HAVE SECURED THE ENTIRE CONTROL OF the above celebrated CLOTHES WRINGER for Kentucky and part of the State of Indiana. We are satisfied that it is the most simple, efficient and durable machine made. Tens of thousands of these machines have already been sold where they have been introduced.

We are prepared to effect sales on the most favorable terms, to wit:

Furnish a cash down one month, and if at the end of that time, they are not entirely satisfied they are worth what they cost, they can return them and we will refund the money.

We will give a liberal discount to merchants in all the large towns to act as agents.

Call and see them and try a circular.

Notice to Mail Subscribers.

Subscribers are supplied with a notice of the date their subscription will expire ten days in advance of the time; and again with a second notice on the day the last copy paid for is sent. This will enable all persons to keep the run of their accounts, and to renew in time not to miss an issue of the paper.

Governor Letcher, of Virginia, is uncompromising. He will have his way or nothing; and his way is to have the independence of the Confederacy acknowledged. He will die in the last ditch; rather he will recommend that other people die in the last ditch, whilst he stays at home vigorously and writes messages.

These ultras will not have their way at last. They may depend on that. This contest will not end as they expect. The most impracticable of all purposes is the division of this Union. Permanent interest is against it; and if it is finally effected, it will be because the sovereign people don't appreciate their own interest. It may do for the cotton States to set up for themselves after a fashion, but these border States don't want to stand between these extremes, to be involved in a bloody contest to suit the ambition of Massachusetts and South Carolina.

It is not the interest of the border States or the Western States to allow this irrepressible conflict. Virginia might have learned by this time that she has interest in being a party to an irrepressible conflict. The three years past is but a foretaste of what a final separation will entail on her for many a generation to come.

There is the same uncompromising temper on the other side, which will accept only its ideas and purposes. It has control of vast resources in men and money; but power can't accomplish impossibilities, and that is just what these radicals are trying to do.

The old Union is a possibility. It has been for generations a glorious Government, and none of its parts will ever make as good a one. It is not worth while for these extremes to be filled with wrath at each other. Neither is half as bad as the other thinks he is, nor half as good as he thinks himself. If either were better than the other, he would not be fit to be the other for the other.

We see that Fernando Wood has made a move to see if peace commissioners can't do something for a restoration. It is ominous that the proposition was only laid on the table by a majority of eight. A change of five votes would have carried it. In peace prepare for war, is a good maxim. In war prepare for peace, is equally good. It may be charged that this will encourage the rebels. If it does, it will be their own fault. All sober people who look on this contest will regard this movement as praiseworthy. It places the Government in a favorable light before the world and before its own people. Sooner or later such a proposition will carry, and it will end in a Union of these States. Magnanimity and concession will enlist the sympathies of the world, and will find a response in the hearts of the masses who feel no interest except in the restoration of the Union. Perhaps the time is not come yet for wisdom and moderation, but the time will come. Experience keeps a deep school. It has been very dear to these rebels; but Letcher has not learned anything yet, and he is supported by many, perhaps, as obstinate as himself; but that the proposition to consider this matter in peace would meet a response in the South, we have no doubt.

The organs of all the loyalty are not at all harmonious. The Louisville Journal and the Cincinnati Gazette have been rivals for the lead in this State, with all the advantages, one would suppose, on the side of the former.

Which really played the tune to which the party would dance, was the question. It must be confessed that the Gazette has got the advantage. It has actually won four-fourths of the game, when, to the observer, who was not behind the curtain, its chances were poor, indeed, for any show at all.

This success has made the Gazette very conceited and supercilious. It treats its rival here with indignity, bordering on contempt.

The latter makes no reply; for since the loss of the four-ninth vote in this State, who went over horse, foot and dragon, to the Gazette, the Louisville Journal is confounded into silence in the face of the tattle from the Gazette; so much so that it is letting slip an opportunity to do something, when it may not have a chance again.

A Senator is to be elected, and the Journal will, for the sake of harmony, say nothing, but urge that the election immediately take place.

Next year there is to be a Presidential election. There will be two candidates—

Abraham Lincoln, and the other a Democrat.

If there be free elections, parties will be re-formed next year on this point, and it will be of some importance which side the Senator goes to. He will let the Gazette get the Senator; in that case, the editor of the Gazette will crow still louder.

It need not be disguised that there is a publican party in this State. It has a formidable representation in Congress, and will make a formidable race for the electoral vote of Kentucky. If it starts with four members of Congress, and a Senator, it may take the editor of the Journal captive, and we shall see the Journal selling after the Gazette like the tail after a kite.

The plain, practical question on hand is, who shall administer this Government the next four years? There is no other point of any great consequence now. Both parties will be for a Union of the States. What course shall be taken to insure it, with the least sacrifice, is the question. What will Kentucky do? This Union party is afraid of the question, for it is divided. The Journal wants harmony. The editor can have it by surrendering to the Gazette & Co. They saver sacrifice anything but their opponents.

They want a Senator who will be with them on the main question. And the question is, what the main question be now put? Will you vote the Republican or the opposition ticket next year? The outcry of Union is very well to humbug people. There is no such question in Kentucky. It has been settled for some time. How are you going to restore the Union? What are the means to be used? Will you take the Republican or the opposition party? They are definite enough.

The plan by which Gen. Hooker drove the rebel forces from Lookout Valley is now conceded to have originated and been ordered by Rosecrans. The credit of it is given to him by Gen. Thomas in his report.

The English government has definitely refused to attend Napoleon's Congress of the European "nationalities."

From the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, we must submit that he makes a considerable figure just now.

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOL-LARS REWARD.

On Saturday, the 5th of December, Mr. Thomas S. Venable, a citizen of Owensboro, then on a visit to Louisville, mysteriously disappeared, and from that day to the present time no trace of him have been discovered, although diligent search has been instituted.

Mr. Venable is a young man about twenty-two years of age, with red hair, fair complexion, about five feet six or seven inches high, weighs about one hundred and twenty pounds, and apparently of frail and delicate constitution.

We, the undersigned, will pay $250 for any positive information of his whereabouts if alive, or if dead, for the recovery and delivery of his body.

THE FAIR AT MASONIC TEMPLE—SUNDAY NIGHT.

The ladies' fair at the Masonic Temple, given for the benefit of the poor, is a most complete success, and the crowd last night was larger than on the opening night. The hall is decorated in the most appropriate manner, and a slight at the beautiful tables which have been so nicely arranged with delicate handiwork will repay any one for a visit to the hall. The fair will continue during the entire week, and we hope that on each succeeding evening the crowd will be increased, and the ladies more than amply rewarded for their efforts in the cause of suffering humanity. No one can spend an hour more pleasantly than by attending the fair, and while they enjoy themselves they will have the double satisfaction of knowing that they have contributed to alleviate the wants of the suffering poor. In addition to the fair of alights, the ladies have prepared through the day all the delicacies which can be had at any time, and we hope that our citizens will patronize this temporary restaurant. We noticed at the fair last night a great want for change, and we would suggest that persons visiting the fair provide themselves with change. To-night we hope to see the hall again crowded.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS—Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Chas. Connolly, drunkenness and disorderly conduct, restricted for 90 days.

Mike Wall, on same charge, went out to reformatory for 90 days in default.

James Forster, on same charge, went out to reformatory for 90 days in default.

George (slave of Peter Smith), drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 10 stripes.

John McClure and William Banks, charged with stealing tobacco from sundry persons; each held in $400 to answer in Circuit Court.

Jacob Hase, assault on his wife, Mary; discharged.

Wm. Davis, suspected felon; held in $300 for one year, bailed.

D. W. Jager, Jno. Laha and John Hunt, all held for six months. All went out.

Elizabeth Sullivan, drunkenness, &c.; discharged.

YOUTHFUL DEPRAVITY—Yesterday morning three boys, the eldest not over twelve years of age, were presented before the police court as suspected felons, and sent to the workhouse for six months in default of security. These boys belong to the gang known as the "Forty Thieves." It is distressing to see the number of boys that are running through the streets of Louisville, and being brought up in all kinds of vice, and who are permitted to run at large because they can be confined.

The city erected, at a cost of sixty thousand dollars, a house of refuge, where these boys could be confined and brought up to be useful men, and some of them ornaments to society. The house of refuge is now held by the military, and some effort should be made to get them to turn it over to our civil authorities, that it may be used for the purpose for which it was originally intended.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL—Major General

Frank P. Blair arrived in this city yesterday from the front, en route for Washington, to take his seat in the House of Representatives, of which he is a member elect. He left on last night's train. Major General John A. Logan succeeds General Blair in command of the Fifteenth army corps. Brigadier General Wool, of Ohio, also arrived from the front yesterday, and is stopping at the Galt House.

THE LEBANON BRANCH RAILROAD MORTGAGE

ON THE CITY—It will be remembered that some time since the city passed an ordinance looking to the Nashville railroad company $200,000, for the purpose of building the Louisville road, and that they were to receive in return a mortgage on the Lebanon branch of the road. This ordinance was submitted to a vote of the people and carried. The mortgage has been given for the $200,000, and upon this, to make it valid, the city has to place a one thousand dollar internal revenue stamp.

ANOTHER STREET ROBBERY—On last Thursday night an old man, by the name of Reese, was returning to his home he was accosted, at the corner of Eighth and Jefferson streets, by a couple of midnight assassins, who demanded his money or life, at the same time displaying a revolver. They took the old man's pocket-book, which contained but one dollar, and Mr. Reese had left his money at home before going out. The parties who committed this outrage were dressed in the garb of soldiers.

FIRE—The alarm of fire about 7 o'clock last night was occasioned by the partial burning of a small house on Fourth street, between Main and the river. The flames were extinguished without the assistance of the fire-engine, and before much damage was done.

AN ORNAMENT REMITTING THE FIRE ASSESSED against the Protestant Episcopal Orphan Asylum, amounting to $346 75, which passed the Council at its last meeting, was yesterday approved by the Mayor.
